Ingentis org.manager®

Org charts on your PC, tablet or smartphone

Ingentis org.manager comes in multiple versions for Microsoft Windows and HTML platforms, and therefore fulfils your requirements for display and appearance in any type of internet browser.

With the Ingentis org.manager [mobile] app, org charts can also be viewed on the Apple iPad.

Org charts in your browser

The HTML version enables the effortless publication of your company's org chart; entirely automated and cross-platforms via web browser. Therefore, users can access information from any type of device. Thanks to a responsive design each device is recognized automatically by the system, so that a smartphone- or tablet-adapted resolution is available.

The layout of the HTML template can be fully adjusted to the corporate design of your enterprise and thus be integrated into an existing Intranet or web portal (e.g. Sharepoint) without complication.

The HTML version also includes extensive search, print, export and zoom functions.
An additional security module can grant restricted access to specific sections of the org chart or to certain information levels on a user-by-user basis. For example reports and KPIs can be individually provided to executives and HR managers.
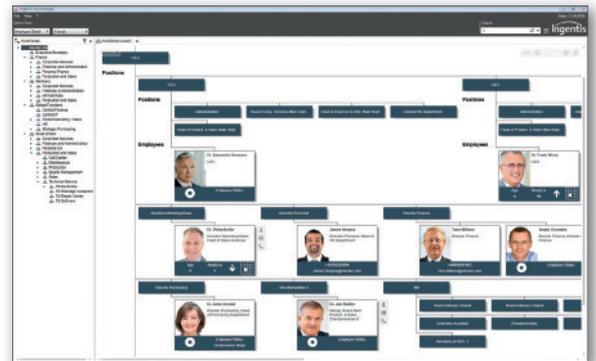

Advantages of displaying in the browser

- Directory for employees
- Fast overview for new employees
- Easily searching competencies
- Extensive search, print and export functions
- Easy integration into existing portals

org.manager [win]

org.manager [win] is compatible with all versions of Microsoft Windows and offers a wide range of display options to enable a personalized user experience. For example the number of levels displayed, zoom factor, and arrangement of organizational pieces can be freely edited. The hierarchy tree allows for effortless navigation through the structure of your enterprise, as well as easy retrieval of detailed information about employees, organizational units, positions, and other groupings. Extensive print, search and export functions complete the package.

org.manager [web]

org.manager [web] is based on the latest HTML-5 technology and can be perfectly adapted to existing portal designs. Information, which is being provided from real-time data feed from the core HR systems, can be displayed in a web browser according to your pre-defined authorization configuration. The design and layout of the HTML pages itself can be modified to match the corporate design of your company. Especially for data centers or 'software as a service' org.manager [web] is the right choice.

org.manager [mobile]

For on-the-go or smaller group meetings Ingentis org.manager [mobile] provides HR personnel and executives with a great tool to display information on the Apple iPad. Suited for daily use, the app gives access to organizational charts as well as deeper level information about departments, employees, and positions.

---

www.ingentis.com